Have Your Bucket Ready

Have Your Bucket Ready

The United States has been shelled by enemy warships. It is completely possible that, before long, the United States may be attacked from the skies. And if those attacks come, fire bombs of one kind or another will be the principal weapons used. Unless this country is ready to deal with fire on an unprecedented scale, disastrous damage to our homes, our factories and our farms will be inevitable.

In connection with this, James M. Landis, Director of the Office of Civilian Defense, recently said: "Obviously the first thing that is apparent is that the firefighting forces of every city have to be enormously expanded.... Recruiting, training of auxiliary firemen, and the re-training of existing forces, are thus a mandatory obligation of every community in the vast target areas of this country. And this program cannot wait. It must not only be begun, but be completed now... We dare not wait sourly and delayingly for new equipment to roll off the production line and blame delays which we can avoid upon delays that are beyond our power to control."

In many localities, volunteer auxiliary fire-fighting organizations were started with enthusiasm long ago. Then that enthusiasm was slowly lost, and at the present time the effort has bogged down. And that is precisely what our enemies want. They aren't going to tell us when they will attack, or where. They will depend upon surprise—and an ill-prepared nation would be a fieasy victim.

Every house should be a fire house. That simply means that all the people should be ready to combat fire whenever it strikes. We must prepare thoroughly. Every day brings the time of possible attack closer.

You Are The Government

With taxes a tremendously growing burden on every citizen in the United States, the people must take an increasing interest in all affairs of govern-ment, from the smallest school district to Congress

ment, from the smallest school district to Congress itself.

Taking an interest in the affairs of government does not mean to merely sit back and kick after assessments have been levied. Instead, study the legitimate needs of government and sift them out of the thousand and one purely political items that have crept into public budgets.

The people must begin talking to or writing to their city councils, their local school boards, their county courts, their tax commissions, their state legislators—and at last, but not least, their congressmen and senators who are today levying taxes which are taking the lion's share of the tax payments of every individual, every business and every industry.

Your congressmen are anxious to know what you think about various measures proposed which deflate your pocketbook. They cannot know if you never express your opinion. A postcard message from a man on the soil, a workman in an industry or a small businessman struggling to meet the tax problems, is the best index of public thinking. There should be sacrifice and economy and scrimping in every home in the land.

Let your public officials know how you feel on legis

the land.

Let your public officials know how you feel on legislative and taxation policies that affect every job, every industry and every dime of savings. The future of representative government is in the hands of the people in more ways than one. Remember, you are the government. Don't expect it to be any better than the thought you contribute to it.

Penalizing Marriage
It is being hotly debated in Congress whether husbands and wives be-forced to make a joint income tax return, instead of separate returns. According to the Treasury estimates, that would increase tax revenue by a few hundred millions annually.

What Treasury experts seem to forget is that a tax law must be judged in the light of justice and equality, not in the light of just how much money it might raise. Millions of women have jobs which have no connection whatsoever with their husbands' jobs and earnings. Other millions are the possessors of income-producing property which has no connection with their marriage and is clearly and completely their own. To say to these women that they cannot make individual tax return, is to say in effect, that the right of themse are not successful as the control of themse are not successful.

individual tax return, is to say in effect, that the right of women to own separate property is abrogated. Gift taxes now in effect prevent wholesale transfer of income producing securities or properties between husband and wife.

Competent lawyers are convinced that the mandatory joint-tax-return law would be unconstitutional. Whether it is or not, it is clearly unjust. It amounts to a penalty on the institution of marriage. The revenue it would produce can be and should be raised in another, more equitable way.

No use crying. It's the war, you know. So give Dad this tip. Tell him that Sinclair Dealers have developed a special Sinclair-ize service that makes cars last longer. Tell Dad that just as American railroads, airlines and the U. S. Army use Sinclair lubricants to save wear on vital transportation equipment, so can Sinclair Dealers use specialized Sinclair lubricants to save wear on your family's car.

Tell Dad to ask his nearby Sinclair Dealer about this service today. He'll find that Sinclair-ize service can save him money and worry, too.
